Introducing Bear Grylls Explorers Camp in Ras Al Khaimah

As part of his journey as a survival expert, Bear Grylls launched the Bear Grylls Survival Academy in 2012, which has become very popular with adrenaline junkies across the world.

In 2020, the Bear Grylls Explorers Camp (BGEC) was launched in Ras Al Khaimah, and is the first Bear Grylls branded camp accommodation in the world. It is incredibly successful, and has been very popular with thrill-seekers, outdoor enthusiasts, adventure junkies, families, school groups, and corporates as well.

Owned and operated by RAK Hospitality Holding LLC, BGEC’s team of highly-trained instructors help explorers overcome their fears, learn how to survive in the wild, and to never give up, no matter how difficult the challenge!

Ready, Set, Embark on Adventure

Developed by Bear Grylls, the courses offer dynamic real-life survival experiences and tactics, and includes: Primal Survival Course (24 hours), Wild Survival Course (8 hours), and an Essential Survival Course (4 hours), which are all suitable for families, schools, and corporate groups that want to increase their team-building through the courses.

There are no basic fitness level nor technical knowledge required in joining these courses, as the explorers will be under the guidance of the highly-skilled instructors. They will learn techniques on survival priorities, natural navigation, shelter building, water-sourcing and filtration, fire lighting, and more.

Explorers can also enjoy hiking, abseiling, rock climbing and archery, as well as the high ropes course, situated ten meters above ground, with two levels of endless challenge and fun. A new addition for this season is the introduction of the thrilling Via Ferrata adventure, which means "iron path" in Italian. It uses steel cables and equipment for safety, allowing explorers to venture through steep mountain terrain with ease. This heart-pounding adventure includes high-adrenaline zip lines, swinging Burma bridges, and vertical climbing sections that will test every explorer's limit, and challenge them to overcome the obstacle they are faced with. To fully enjoy this experience, a head for heights is a must, as the routes include thrilling heights and breath-taking vistas. With three distinct routes to choose from – ranging from introductory to intermediate and to advanced, there is a route available across all levels, starting with those 14 years and older.
